COUPLE ASKS $2,545 DAMAGE FOR ROAD WORK

Mr. and Mrs. Sizer A. Burton, Gettysburg R. D., are seeking $2,545.96 from a Pittsburgh road construction outfit for damage done to their home and well when the concern blasted in 1961 for the new Route 15 around the borough.

The Burtons, who reside in Cumberland Twp. have brought an action in trespass against Ferguson and Edmondson Co., Pittsburgh, in Adams County court alleging that the blasting for the new road destroyed the well at their home and caused damage to windows, walls and plaster of the house.

The complaint was filed in the prothonotary's office for the Burtons by Attorney Edward B. Buleit.

CAN'T USE WATER

November 15, 1961, was the day of the blast, according to the complaint. The new road being constructed by Ferguson came within 350 yards of the two-story stone home and the well 12 feet south of the house.

The blasting, according to the complaint, "caused cracks and seams to open up in and below the surface of the land in the vicinity of the well to the extent of permitting surface water and contaminated water to enter the underground stream providing water to the well."

Before the blast the well was "never failing," and provided a "supply of clean, wholesome water." After the blast the latter was "unfit for human consumption."

HAULED WATER

The same blasting broke windows in the house, dislodged and cracked stones and plaster.

The Burtons had to haul water until a new well could be drilled, had to put in windows, have the home repointed, and redecorate the interior.

They allege the cost of the repairs, hauling water, and the cost of the new well totaled $2,545.96.

ARREST TRIO FOR THEFTS

Three persons have been arrested by Shippensburg Police on a charge of shoplifting at Shippensburg stores. They were identified by police as Mrs. Eleanor M. Miller, 40; her daughter, Mrs. Barbara Fisher, 20, and Mrs. Joseph T. Verdie, all of Orrtanna R. 1.

Police said the three women were observed as they placed cigarettes and miscellaneous items into carrying bags at Cressler's Fruit Market, Shippensburg.

Mrs. Miller was asked to drive her car to the police station. "There the officers found a large carry-all bag which was filled with many items for which the women could not produce a sales slip."

Police listed the stolen items as follows: From the G. C. Murphy store, five sweaters, two dresses and one smock; Silco store, three pairs of ladies' shoes, powder and combs, and from the H.P. store, two men's sweaters.

The three women entered a plea of guilty before Justice of the Peace William Clark, Shippensburg, and were each fined $25 and costs. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Fissel paid their fines and costs but Mrs. Verdie posted $200 in bond, pending payment of fine and costs.

Vandals Take Another Gun

Park Ranger Jude Smith is shown examining damage to the 56th Pennsylvania monument on Reynolds Ave. where vandals removed a rifle from the marker. Park Ranger Thomas Brown, in general charge of the investigation into the incident, said the theft was unquestionably the work of vandals who "knew what they were going to do before they began the operation." The pin holding the rifle was carefully extracted from its position in order to remove the rifle itself. There were no indications of sawing or chiseling in order to extract the weapon.

The 56th Pennsylvania Regiment members were the first Union infantry to fire against the Confederates here. New York units arriving on the field with the 56th withheld their fire for a few moments to give the Pennsylvanians the honor of opening the battle on their own soil. ## Rioters Rove Thru Negro Sections Of Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Rioters roamed through the Negro section of Philadelphia's north side Friday night and into the pre-dawn hours today, smashing windows, looting stores and attacking policemen. The disturbances covered a four-mile square area, where perhaps two thirds of the city's approximately 600,000 Negroes live.

At least 50 persons were injured, including 20 policemen. More than 30 persons were arrested.

STORE FRONTS SMASHED

Dawn lit up a bizarre scene. Negroes were standing in the streets as far as the eye could see. There were many women and children. Every store in view, during a tour of the area, had smashed front windows. Broken glass was everywhere. Every now and then a person, usually a teen-ager, could be seen running from a store, carrying merchandise.

A police car had been turned upside down. A few blocks further a taxicab was overturned, its fire-blackened interior still smoldering.

NEED 500 POLICEMEN

The disturbances began with a comparatively minor incident. An automobile stalled at an intersection. Police were called to remove it.

When they arrived, the driver refused to let them take the car away. Th man's wife punched an officer, according to police. Bystanders joined in, kicking both policemen on the detail.

They radioed for help. Eventually 500 policemen — wearing steel helmets, carrying night sticks and revolvers, which they kept in holsters — were on the scene. Police Commissioner Howard Leary took personal control.

RESCUE TRIO IN LAKE ERIE TARGET AREA

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Three businessmen returned home today after a brush with death in the choppy waters of Lake Erie within the noisy fringe of a Coast Guard target area.

They had struggled to keep afloat for nearly 13 hours Thursday after their 26-foot cabin cruiser sank Wednesday night, 10 miles off the Toledo, Ohio, shore.

Shells burst about them before help arrived.

Keith Griffin, president of a wrecking firm here, had taken two friends, Bill Adler, an insurance agent, and Norm Hilgeman, president of a sign painting company, for a day-long cruise in his new boat.

IN TARGET ZONE

They felt the boat shake as they passed between two small islands returning to the Toledo Marina. Investigating, they found water gushing into the engine compartment.

Griffin and Hilgeman, donning ski-belts and float cushions, plunged into the water to swim for help leaving Adler with the sinking craft.

Shortly after daylight, the Coast Guard began firing practice. Adler said shells of the bursting shells drifted about him.

ALL RESCUED

Another cruiser, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley G. Aglesky of Toledo, spotted Adler waving a red float cushion and thought he was warning them of the restricted Coast Guard area.

Drawing nearer, they realized his plight and picked him up. After an unsuccessful hunt for his two companions, the couple returned Adler to port and notified the coast guard. A cutter found Griffin and Hilgeman clinging to a buoy.

None required hospitalization.

York Woman Dies Of Brutal Beating

YORK, Pa. (AP) — A York woman, severely beaten and blinded in an attack Friday, died today in York Hospital.

Hospital officials said the victim, Mrs. Mary Louise Green, 29, died at 6 a.m.

Police are holding William Smith, Jr., 28, York, on charges of mayhem, assault with intent to kill, and aggravated assault. There was no immediate indication of whether the charges would be changed after Mrs. Green's death.

Police said Smith had been released last month from Harrisburg State Hospital, a mental institution.

3,000 SHRIEKS GREET BEATLES

NEW YORK (AP) — Though they arrived in the dead of night, the Beatles were met by 3,000 very-much-alive teenagers at Kennedy Airport early today.

Screams, shrieks and moans assailed the ears of the motopopped quartet, but nary a fan got close to them. The four ran from their plane to waiting limousines in less than two minutes.

Police cordons confined the devotees to an observation deck, 30 feet above the ground and 200 feet from where the chartered plane stopped.

It was 2:55 a.m. when the Beatles arrived from Cincinnati, where they were virtually drowned out by 13,000 screaming teen-agers during a 30-minute performance Thursday night.

When the Beatles arrived at a Park Avenue hotel in Manhattan, scores of fans broke through police barricades and surged against the four entertainers who squirmed away and ran into the hotel.

In the crush outside the hotel, Beatle Ringo Starr's shirt was ripped and someone yanked a St. Christopher medal from a chain around his neck.

NO CASES OF POLIO IN PA.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania has yet to record a case of polio for 1964, the State Health Department reported today.

Health officials, however, do not like to discuss the situation.

"It's like a no-hit baseball game in progress," said Dr. Charles L. Wilbur, state health secretary. "It's considered inadvisable to discuss the outcome until the last batter is out."

Never in the 54-year-old history of keeping records on polio cases has the health department gone this far into the summer without recording a case.

Usually polio reaches its peak in August and begins to decline in October. Last year the state had experienced 47 cases at this date.

The department reported Thursday that pneumonia and influenza claimed 4,294 lives in Pennsylvania last year — the most since 1947. Of the total, 83.5 per cent occurred among persons over 44 years of age.

Miller Comments On Convention

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP) — The Democrats "can not be expected to run the country well when they obviously can not even run a Democratic convention," the Republican candidate for vice president said today.

"They weren't even able to remove from the hall people who had no right to be there," Miller said.

"THE OLD SCHOOL"

In this modern age of living . . . education is the thing . . . without it people stumble . . . like a bird without a wing . . . in order to advance today . . . the world demands our best . . . and so it is we must be equal . . . to each grueling test . . . our blushing youth is well aware . . . of what this life demands . . . they feel as though the brain can take . . . the place of toiling hands . . . this makes for progress but sometimes . . . book work is overdone . . . it takes a whole lot more than this . . . if goals are to be won . . . a thing we call experience . . . is needed most of all . . . for in it lies the answer . . . if we are to rise or fall . . . so never sell the aged short . . . years seldom make a fool . . . for they are being tutored in . . . the wonderful old school.

Rescue

from a concussion and cuts and bruises, melted snow for water, dragged some picnic supplies from the plane and tried to make a shelter of a suitcase.

The first night of near-freezing temperatures passed with search efforts thwarted because of wind.

A search pilot spotted Miss Kowaczek Thursday and thought he saw another survivor as well. Sleeping bags, food and other survival gear were dropped, but she apparently couldn't find the food. The second night passed.

When the rescuers, led by Sheriff Harley Kinkade, arrived, they found her holding an unopened can of soda pop. She asked Kinkade who he was and then asked or a can opener. She said she had been able to find no more patches of snow to melt.

GOING FOR BODIES

After waiting in vain for a helicopter to buck the bad weather, the party started down — three men riding, the fourth man on foot and leading a horse ridden by Miss Kowaczek.

"We kept her talking all the way out to keep her spirits up," Roth said. "Once she started to break down, but only for a few seconds. Then we sort of kidded her out of it and she said 'I'll be okay now.'"

Miss Kowaczek was taken to Coe Memorial Hospital.

A party went to the area today to remove the bodies.

Economist Takes Helm As Acting Premier At Saigon

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — In a surprise move after two days of bloody rioting, a Harvard-educated economist, Dr. Nguyen Xuan Oanh, took temporary command of a troubled South Viet Nam today as the nation's acting premier.

Oanh, 45, told a crowded news conference he had a mandate to rule for two months as head of a caretaker regime.

Speaking in fluent, colloquial English, Oanh said Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh is still South Viet Nam's premier but is now "sick" and recovering at the mountain resort of Dalat.

DEAD IN RIOTING

The surprise announcement came only a few hours after government troops cracked down on armed rioters who had brought Saigon close to civil war between Buddhists and Roman Catholics.

The two days of mob rule left at least nine dead and scores injured.

Oanh had served since Jan. 30 as premier Khanh's deputy premier for finance, but he was never seriously regarded as a contender for the top job.

CLOSE U. S. TIES

There were strong signs of increasing American involvement in the Vietnamese government. "I cannot see how cooperation between our two governments could be any closer than it has been," Oanh said.

Oanh said the nation still is ruled by the triumvirate of Khanh, Lt. Gen. Tran Thien Khiem and Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh.

Asked if the triumvirate would be likely to overrule any of his decisions, he said: "I don't think they will want to overrule us, and I don't think we will want to be overruled."

COUNT HEAVY LOSSES FROM DYING CLEO

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) — Cleo, a once-deadly hurricane that killed 138 persons in the Caribbean and left parts of the Florida east coast a disaster area, sloshed against the Georgia coastline today little more than a band of squalls.

Residents of Georgia and South Carolina were warned of gales and rains up to 10 inches. "She's not very dangerous now," said a forecaster at the National Hurricane Center in Miami, "but she'll just rain and rain."

All areas of Florida's east coast that Cleo battered were declared disaster areas and made eligible for long-term, low-cost loans.

The weather bureau estimated Florida damage at $200 million, most of it in the "Gold Coast" area from West Palm Beach to Miami which Cleo raked with winds of up to 135 miles an hour.

Cleo battered millions of dollars worth of citrus from trees south of Cape Kennedy, opening the prospect of higher prices next season. Sugar cane also suffered heavy damage along the shore of Lake Okeechobee, and some fall vegetable crops were wiped out near the coast.

Miss Redding To Teach Nursing

MISS REDDING

Miss Barbara Ann Redding, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard F. Redding, 909 Highland Ave., has been appointed an instructor in the division of nursing at St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, according to an announcement by Sister Rosemary Pfaff, president of the college.

Miss Redding is a graduate of Delone Catholic High School, McSherrystown. She received her B.S. degree from St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, in 1961, and her Master's degree in Nursing from the University of Pennsylvania this year.

A member of the National Council of Catholic Nurses, Miss Redding will take up her duties at St. Joseph College with the opening of the fall term on September 17.

Mobs Roam Thru Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Mobs roamed the littered streets of Saigon Friday waving machetes and meat cleavers as heavily armed troops stood guard to prevent further bloodshed.

Street gangs defied pleas from Catholic, Buddhist, and government leaders to lay down their arms and go home.

A mob of 200 predominantly Buddhist youths carrying clubs and hatchets set fire to a Catholic newspaper office and school while police looked on. The incident was a renewal of Thursday's organized violence that turned the capital into a nightmare off lawlessness and mob rule.

Scores were wounded in fierce battles that left the streets cluttered with bricks, broken bottles and glass. Hospitals reported more than 60 innocent persons were injured.

Police placed the death toll at four. Newsmen, however, counted at least eight bodies.

Old political and religious antagonisms between Buddhists and Roman Catholics that led to the downfall last November of President Ngo Dinh Diem's government stirred the fighting.

BERLIN (AP) — A 19-year-old East German youth died today in a hail of bullets from East German border guards as he tried to flee to West Berlin. A companion, 23, reached the West.

West Berlin police said the two young men started to crawl through barbed wire on the East German side of the Teltow Canal about 2 A.M. but they were spotted by the guards.

The older escapee forced his way through the wire, and although badly cut made it across to the other side. Police fished the exhausted man out of the water.

SELL TICKETS FOR "HAMLET"

A total of 4,328 tickets will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis at the Majestic Theater for the four performances of Richard Burton's "Hamlet" to be presented by Warner Bros. on September 23-24 in the revolutionary new electronic-optical process of Electronovision Theatrofilm. The ticket sale begins today.

Seats will not be reserved, but the number of tickets to be sold for each performance will not exceed the capacity of the theater, thereby guaranteeing a seat to each ticket holder. All tickets will be $2 including federal and local taxes.

More than 1,000 theaters in the United States and Canada will present Burton's "Hamlet" on the same two successive days. There will be two matinees at 2 p.m. and two evening performances at 8 p.m. of the play, which was presented on the stage of the Lunt-Fontanne Theater in New York. There will be no "road" tour by the Broadway company; instead, the widely acclaimed Burton interpretation will be taken to audiences from coast to coast in Electronovision Theatrofilm.

Starring with Burton in "Hamlet" are Hume Cronyn, Alfred Drake, Eileen Herlie, William Redfield, George Rose and George Voskovec.

Advance sales will be taken in the area schools and colleges.

MORE WOMEN ON VACATION

Women who take a vacation on the highways outnumber men, according to Mrs. Helen R. Bollinger, office manager of the AAA Gettysburg Motor Club.

Mrs. Bollinger reports that of an estimated 94.5 million Americans getting into a car for vacation or pleasure trips this year 49.2, or about 52 per cent, will be female travelers (women, girls and toddlers).

"Women are more and more on the go," Mrs. Bollinger noted. "This summer alone, it is estimated there will have been 28.9 million of them on the highways on either extended vacation trips or weekend pleasure drives to view scenic pleasures close to home."

She attributed the high number of women travelers on the road today to the fact that family travel is on the increase. The local AAA motor club official added, however, that men who drive generally still outnumber women.

Of the estimated 94 million licensed drivers in the United States, 37.5 million, or 40 per cent, are women. In single-car households, 38.3 per cent of the licensed drivers are women and, in the multi-car households, the percentage is 42.1.

Mrs. Bollinger pointed out that men do more driving for business reasons than do women.

Today's Talk

GRUDGES

It seems to me that the poorest and most damaging thing to hold in one's mind and heart, is a grudge against someone. Every moment it is harbored, it eats into one's better elements. And the one toward whom it is borne it left helpless, as a rule.

It always takes a deal of courage and character to make amends to anyone. But it is the thing to do, and the sooner the better. The chances are that the one toward whom you hold a grudge, is entirely ready to overlook and forget, thus turning on the light again in both lives.

Most of the grudges that we form toward others, are occasioned by misunderstanding. And misunderstandings are really so easy to wipe out.

I was once told of the case of two brothers who had a quarrel on their way back from a trip to Europe. For several days, toward the end of the journey, neither would speak to the other. Arriving in New York, they separated each going to his own home. But one of the brothers wrote to me and said that he loved his brother and wanted to be friends with him again, but up till then he had refused all efforts at reconciliation.

Both brothers, however, were readers of these talks in their local newspaper, and the one desiring to make up with his brother asked me to write something that would touch his brother, and perhaps be the means of a reunion. This I did, and the idea worked. Both were overjoyed at the happy ending.

Life, at its longest, is indeed short. There really isn't room for any of these grudges that so mess up lives that are unwise, and intolerant. It always pays to be bigger than the other fellow — so that he may have the example of something toward which to climb! What a satisfaction it is to be friends with everyone.

Just Folks

THE JOYFUL TROUBLES
Last night the mother shook her head.

"Now something must be done," she said.

"They steal the cookies that I bake."

"They pinch the frosting off the cake."

"They feed their playmates and themselves."

"They track the floors with muddy feet."

"I work all day to keep things neat, and in they come with whoop and shout."

"And toss their playthings all about."

"I wish you'd talk to them and see if different they won't try to be."

Said I: "The woes that you rehearse."

"Are bad, but still they could be worse."

"Suppose the floors were always neat."

"And never tracked by muddy feet?"

"Suppose there was no one to take The frosting from the chocolate cake?"

"Think how much happier you are Than folks who fill a cookie jar And leave it on the shelf and know."

"To steal from if no child will go. How sad and lonely we'd be here If cookies didn't disappear."

COMEDY TO END SUMMER SLATE AT TOTEM POLE

The Totem Pole Playhouse will open its final production of the 1964 summer season Monday night with a modern comedy by Lexford Richards. "Dear Barbarians" will play through Saturday, September 5, with a matinee performance on Wednesday at 2:30 p.m.

Featured in the leading role of Alexander Fiske will be Tom McKenna, who has appeared in all but one production this summer. As a musician living in bachelor apartment in New York City, Alexander causes his parents much concern over his living habits. The parents are played by Arden Kiser and Dorothy Scott. Mr. Kiser has appeared as many fathers this summer, most notably as Eliza Doolittle's Cockney father in "My Fair Lady," and as the strong willed Mennonite Papa in this week's production of "Papa Is All." Miss Scott will be making her first appearance on the Totem Pole stage. She has many Broadway plays to her credit, including "Jane Eyre" with Errol Flynn and a modernized version of "Lysistrata."

A play set in a bachelor apartment without girls would be unheard of, and in "Dear Barbarians" three are two members of the distaff side who have more than a casual eye on the young jazz musician; one is a sculptress, Alice, played by Margaret Winn and the other a pop singer named Lorraine, played by Pamela Murphy. Miss Murphy appeared earlier this summer as Madge in "Picnic," while Miss Winn appeared in "The Sound of Music" and as the rebel daughter in "Papa Is All."

When "Dear Barbarians" appeared on Broadway, the play was hailed as funnier than the "Moon Is Blue." The run-down musician's apartment will be designed by Don J. Remacle with decor by Betty Knepper and lighting by Richard Merriman.

"Barbarians" will be directed by William H. Putsch, and represents his 120th production in 11 seasons.

Miller Hammers LBJ War Service

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller, Republican vice presidential candidate, says President Johnson "elected to be a congressman instead of a soldier" in World War II while "Barry Goldwater stayed in the service for four long years."

Miller also said in a speech Friday that a filmed biography of Johnson — shown at the Democratic convention — this week and televised nationally — showed Johnson entering the Navy but did not show that "six months later he was back home again, before the shooting even started."

Johnson went on active duty as a lieutenant commander in the Navy on Dec. 8, 1941, the day after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. He went on bombing missions in the South Pacific, was awarded the Silver Star and returned to Washington in July 1942, when President Franklin D. Roosevelt decreed that members of Congress could not serve in the Armed Forces.

MECHANISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Dick Tobias of Lebanon won a close victory in the 25-lap feature for modified stock cars at Williams Grove Speedway Friday night.

Tobias nosed out Bobby Abel of Wrightsville after taking the lead on the 24th lap. Abel, who had been leading, got behind a lapped car, and Tobias passed him.

LESS UNEMPLOYMENT
HARRISBURG (AP) — The Department of Labor and Industry says Pennsylvania's unemployment rate dropped from 5.7 per cent of the work force in mid-July to 5.2 per cent in mid-August.

The national figure for July was 4.9 per cent.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Joseph A. Blatt, brother of Democratic U.S. senatorial candidate Genevieve Blatt, will step down Wednesday from his $12,075-a-year post as state parks director.

Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of forests and waters, named as Blatt's successor Conrad R. Lickel, associated with the state parks program since 1949 and assistant parks director since 1961.

Orioles, Chisox Split; Burgess Homer In 9th Beats Phillies

Birds Lose Opener In 9th, Lead Most Of Way In 2nd; Bunning Has Shutout To 9th

Hank Aguirre is notorious for his inability to hit a baseball; Norm Siebern is noted for his conspicuous nature.

Both stepped out of character Friday night.

Aguirre, reputed to be the weakest hitting pitcher in the majors, was hitless in 41 times at bat this season until he lashed a single and drilled a three-run double in Detroit's 12-1 victory over Los Angeles in the first game of their two-night double-header.

SIEBERN ERROR HURTS
The walls of inconspicuousness came tumbling down on Siebern as he committed an error that led to Chicago's 2-1 triumph over Baltimore in the first game of their double-header.

Remaining in the spotlight, but in a more favorable manner, Siebern slammed a two-run homer in the Orioles' 8-3 second-game victory. The split enabled the Orioles to remain in first place in the American League, one-half game ahead of the White Sox.

The Orioles led 1-0 behind rookie Wally Bunker's two-hitter going into the ninth inning of the opener. Pinch hitter Gene Stephens, Chicago's leadoff batter, hit a routine grounder to second base. Jerry Adair flipped to Siebern, but the first baseman dropped the ball.

BIRDS LOOSE IN 9TH
A walk to Jim Landis and a late throw on a sacrifice bunt loaded the bases before Floyd Robinson lined a single to center field, driving in two runs.

Siebern, however, acquitted himself somewhat in the nightcap, belting a two-run homer off starter John Buzhardt in third inning that broke a 1-1 deadlock and put the Orioles ahead to stay.

In other AL games, Detroit completed a sweep of their double-header with an 8-7 victory over the Angels. Boston outslugged New York 5-3, Cleveland defeated Kansas City 4-1 and Washington trimmed Minnesota 3-1.

4TH LOSS FOR BUNKER
Bunker, the 19-year-old wonder, held the White Sox hitless for 6-2-3 innings of the first game until Pete Ward singled. He wound up losing his fourth game against 13 victories. Gary Peters, who gave up only a fifth-inning homer to Earl Robinson, brought his record to 15-7.

The Orioles broke out in a power barrage behind Steve Barber in the nightcap. Brooks Robinson followed Siebern's two-run blast with his 23rd homer in the third, and Sam Bowers connected with two in the fifth. Barber, 9-10, needed relief help from Stu Miller in the eighth after Chicago loaded the bases.

Aguirre rocketed his batting average to .045 with his rare safety in support of the one-hitter he pitched through seven innings before he was forced to retire with a pulled leg muscle. The victory was only his fourth in 11 decisions but his second in six days.

Don Demeter, who earlier drove in two runs, knocked in the winning run in the second game with a seventh-inning sacrifice fly. Norm Cash, who batted in four first-game runs, collected three hits and two RBIs in the contest. Joe Adcock's two-run pinch single capped a six-run rally for the Angels in the fifth, giving them a temporary 7-6 lead.

Al Downing appeared on his way to a victory over the Red Sox until he became wild and walked Ed Bressoud and Al Smith in the seventh inning. Felix Mantilla followed with his 21st homer, wiping out a 3-1 Yankee lead. Dick Stuart added his 30th in the eighth.

Sonny Siebert, 5-5, scattered seven hits and socked his first major league homer for the Indians. Chico Salmon also smashed a Cleveland homer, and Dick Howser stole home for another tally.

A boot by Minnesota's Rich Rollins led to two Senator runs in the sixth inning.

Bobo Outpoints Fresno Opponent
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Carl (Bobo) Olson knows he can't go on boxing forever, yet before he finally hangs up his gloves he wants to fight for the light heavyweight championship.

Chances of getting that wish looked good today for the 36-year-old former middleweight champion whose career seemed washed up eight years ago when his bid to regain the 160-pound title ended in a knockout at the hands of Sugar Ray Robinson.

Before a nationwide television audience Friday night, Bobo convincingly outpointed 24-year-old Wayne Thornton of Fresno, Calif., who had been ranked No. 2 contender by the World Boxing Association.

Smoky Burgess hadn't circled the bases in 2½ months but his 37-year-old legs had no trouble making the trip.

Burgess, Pittsburgh's squat, veteran catcher, rifled a home run — only his second of the season — and the three-run, ninth inning shot lifted the Pirates to a 4-2 victory over National League-leading Philadelphia Friday night.

The round man unloaded against reliever Ed Roebuck, capping a four-run rally in the ninth that temporarily snagged the Phillies' pennant drive.

RARE BURGESS HOMER
Burgess, a .299 lifetime batter who is nearing the end of a 15-year major league career, had not homered since June 13, when his three-run circuit produced a 10-7 decision over the Chicago Cubs. He had driven in only 11 runs and was struggling at a .245 batting clip while playing infrequently behind No. 1 catcher Jim Pagliaroni.

The loss, Philadelphia's third in the last four games, trimmed the Phillies' lead to 6½ lengths over the runner-up Cincinnati Reds, whose game with Houston was rained out.

Third place San Francisco nipped Milwaukee 3-2 on Lee Maye's ninth inning error; St. Louis topped the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-3 behind southpaw Ray Sadecki and the New York Mets outslugged the Chicago Cubs 12-10.

BUNNING NEAR SHUTOUT
Philadelphia's Jim Bunning, seeking his sixth straight victory and 15th of the season, had a three-hitter and a 2-0 lead going into the ninth. Bill Virdon led off with a bloop single to center and, one out later, Jerry Lynch drew a walk.

Roebuck replaced Bunning and Willie Stargell hit his first pitch for a run-scoring single. Then Burgess hit into the right field stands.

Bunning started the Phillies' two-run eighth with a single, the fifth hit off Joe Gibbon, took second on Cookie Rojas' single and scored on Johnny Callison's double. Rojas also scored while Callison was being run down between second and third.

Milwaukee's Maye let Del Crandall's single get by him in the ninth and Jim Davenport raced home from first base with the Giants' winning run. Loser Wade Blasingame, who pitched a strong five-hitter, walked Harvey Kuenn in the sixth and Willie Mays crashed his 39th homer for a 2-2 tie after Joe Torre's two-run homer in the second had put the Braves in front.

Bill White hit a three-run homer in the Cardinals' five-run third inning that erased a 2-0 Dodger lead. Sadecki, touched or a two-run homer by Willie Davis in the first inning, checked the Dodgers on five hits thereafter for his 16th triumph.

The Mets snapped a 10-10 tie in the eighth on Joe Christopher's fourth hit of the game and won for the ninth time in their last 11 games. Ron Hunt singled home two runs before Christopher delivered the go-ahead run. Jim Hickman doubled the last run in.

GOING TO DEFY BAN FROM WBA
NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Professional boxing found itself split-deep in a new controversy today with promoters of a return heavyweight title bout between Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston vowing defiance of a World Boxing Association ban on such a fight.

"If that's the stand of the WBA, we'll ignore it. Somewhere in the United States, the fight will go on in November," said Harold Conrad, a spokesman for Inter-Continental Promotions, which envisions the match as a $4.25 million affair.

The choice of states for a return go between Clay, the champion, and Liston will be severely limited, however, if all the states that are members of the WBA observe its sanctions.

Thirteen states do not belong to the WBA but the two biggest — New York and California — already have disapproved a second Clay-Liston bout. That leaves Arkansas, Delaware, Georgia, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Oklahoma, South Carolina, South Dakota and Wyoming as possible sites.

KINGS POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Makoto Sakamoto, an 18-year-old high school student, will lead the U.S. men's Olympic gymnastics squad to his native Tokyo in October.

Sakamoto, the national champion from Highland Falls, N.Y., took top honors in the two-day Olympic Trials which ended Friday night at the Merchant Marine Academy with 115.30 points.

JOHN TOGGAS ACCEPTS POST AT WEST YORK

Johnny T. Toggas, head wrestling coach at Biglerville High School for the last six years, submitted his resignation Friday to accept a similar position at West York High School.

JOHN T. TOGGAS

Toggas, who teaches physical education and assists in football in Biglerville, will assume similar duties when he reports to West York late in October.

During his six-year career at Biglerville, Toggas' wrestling teams compiled an overall 34-33-2 record. He produced seven sectional champions, one district champion, one regional champ and placed one boy in the state meet. His 1961 Canner squad was the sectional two titlist.

Toggas, a 1958 graduate of Gettysburg College, will continue his residence at 72 Springs Ave., where he resides with his wife, the former Miss Mary Jane Svarnas, and son, Steve.

State Opposing Potomac Proposals

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton says further study should be given to a federal program to construct eight major dams and reservoir projects in the Potomac River Basin.

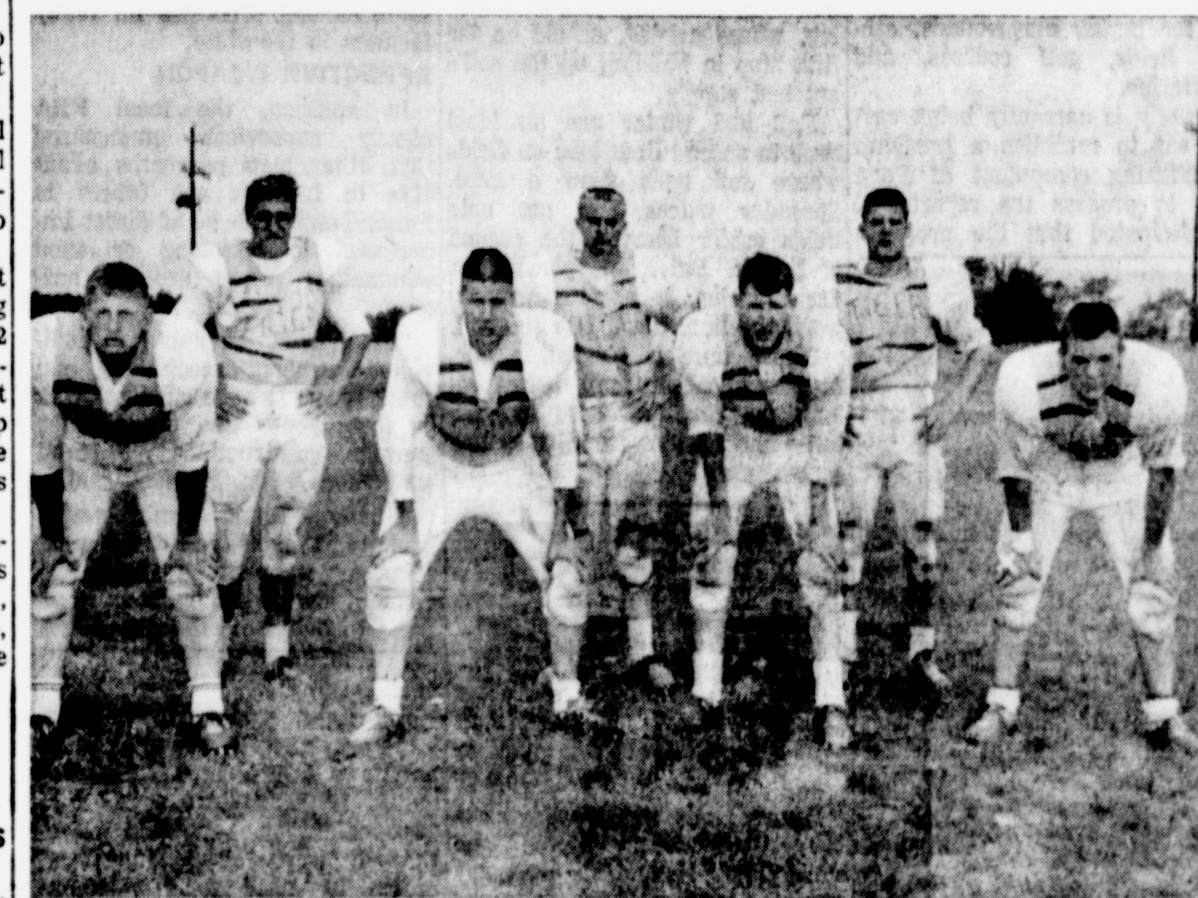

"At best it appears that only minor basin benefits would accrue as a result of the proposed projects in Pennsylvania," the governor said Friday in a letter to the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

"In view of the strong opposition (from other states) to the larger reservoirs, further review of the plan is absolutely essential."

Scranton said the commonwealth was opposed to "authorization for Chambersburg, West Brance, and Six Bridge reservoirs, which affect Pennsylvania."

Hinkle and McCauslin are the cocaptains. The lone vet missing when the picture was taken was Paul Middour, tackle. (Times photo)

Bermudian Is Banking On Defense; Eight Lettermen Among Twenty Candidates

"Defense is going to be our greatest asset," Bermudian Springs head football coach Tom Shreiner said as he begins his second season at the Eagle helm.

Shreiner pointed out that in a recent scrimmage, the squad did an exceptionally fine job, especially the defense. From this performance and after two weeks of grueling drills, Shreiner has come to the conclusion that his defensive squad is going to have to win the ball games. He said, "This is the type of ball club which will make the opposition make mistakes. That should give our offense the ball in good field position."

Shreiner is not taking anything away from the overall picture at Bermudian when he says he will have to depend on his defensive squad. He said, "Overall I think we are going to be much stronger than last year. We are bigger, have more experience and the speed has improved 100 per cent."

YETS FORM NUCLEUS
Shreiner will once again stick to his split T offense, using flankers. He has eight returning lettermen from last season, all of whom were starters in 1963. Running back Todd Tanger, 5'9", 170 pounds, Tom Cashman, 5'11", 180 pounds, Tom Harbold, 5'9", 185 pounds, many observers have claimed that Harbold is one of the finest interior linemen in the area. He's quick, can detect the direction of an opposing play and pounce on it before it gets moving. He plays the middle linebacker post on the Eagle defensive unit. Sophomore Jim Lerew, 5'11", 180" is handling the center position, alternating with Paul Middour, 6'1", 210. Middour will see more action at tackle. The tackles are being handled by Juniors Terry Lermer, 5'11", 190, and letterman Joe Lemmon, 6', 215. The lone veteran end is Jay Smith, 5'11", 170.

A battle is being waged for the second spot between Sophomore Keith Stambaugh, 5'9", 150, and Freshman Sam Baker, 6', 165.

Two new additions will be added to the Bermudian picture. Shreiner will have a new assistant in Dean Becker, a former head coach for the Eagles. Bermudian will also be playing a home football schedule for the first time in its history. In past years, the Eagles had to play on either the old school field or on one of the other county fields. The new gridiron is located directly behind the school on the northeast section of the property. The playing field will run north and south. The booster club has purchased a new set of bleachers with a seating capacity of 500.

The Eagles will open their home campaign and their 1964 season by opposing Northern Joint on September 12. The remainder of the schedule includes September 18, Juniata Joint, away; 26, James Buchanan, home; October 3, St. Francis Prep, home; 10, open; 17, Kennard-Dale, home; 24, Carson Long, away; 31, Scotland, away; November 7, South Huntingdon, home; 14, Harrisburg Academy, home.

RYAN LEADS CLEVELAND TO THIRD VICTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"Give me time," intelligent, articulate Frank Ryan said earlier this year, "and I'll be another Y. A. Tittle."

Had he been talking about falling hair, the Cleveland Brown quarterback might have been pessimistic. But he wasn't. He was talking about completing passes and he was most optimistic.

Tittle, of course, is the bald old warrior who has passed the New York Giants to two straight Eastern Conference titles in the National Football League and a total of 69 touchdown passes in the two seasons.

5 TO PASSES
The optimism may have seemed a little far-etched at the time, but Ryan is showing signs of making it stand up.

Ryan fired five touchdown passes Friday night and led the Browns to their third straight impressive exhibition victory, a 35-14 romp over the tough Lions in Detroit. One of his strikes was a bullet to Walt Roberts, a St. Louis held off the defending champion Chicago bears 7-3 in the other NFL exhibition, while Kansas City extended its mastery over Denver 14-10 at Fort Worth and Buffalo extended Boston's losing string 24-14 in the two Friday night AFL games.

Proper Feeding Schedule Increases Milk Supply, Helps To Build Profits

By THOMAS E. PIPER
Adams County Farm Agent

The fall-freshening dairy cow usually makes more money for the dairyman. This is true for two reasons. He has more time to properly feed and care for the fresh cow which is the most critical time of her lactation period, and the price of milk is usually higher during the fall and winter months.

Thomas E. Piper

However, many dairymen lose all of the profit a dairy cow could possibly make during her lactation period by following improper feeding procedures during her dry period and at time of freshening. Over feeding, underfeeding, improper protein levels in the grain mixture, or not knowing the forage quality being fed, are only a few of the mistakes that can be costly.

Before freshening, keep the dry cow in a constant state of good flesh and increase grain feed two weeks prior to freshening. After freshening place the cow on a full-feed of grain as soon as possible. Use same grain mixture for the dry and fresh cow but regulate protein levels on the basis of forage quality.

Any dairyman interested in receiving a scientifically formulated ration for each cow in his herd every month in the year, should contact the Agricultural Extension Office for details about the Penn State DHIA-FT program. This program uses electronic data processing machines to determine the proper kinds and amounts of feed for each cow in your herd.

Several thousand dairymen are currently using the Penn State DHIA-FT program because it makes money for them. It adds science and modern technology to their dairy cow feeding program.

SOIL TESTING LAB

During the past fiscal year the Pennsylvania State University soil testing laboratory in the College of Agriculture ran complete analysis tests on 58,000 soil samples. This volume represents an average of one test every two minutes which includes receiving, analyzing, and typing the report of a sample.

Eighty-five per cent of the reports are received by the patrons within seven days after the lab receives the sample. This ranks the lab among the leaders in the United States for fast, efficient service.

Since the lab began operations 13 years ago, approximately 330,000 soil samples have been analyzed. This includes samples for the production, establishment, and maintenance of farm crops, vegetables, lawns, shrubs, grasses, legumes, and ornamentals for parks, playgrounds, athletic fields, golf courses, and cemeteries.

A study is currently being carried out to establish a program for utilizing computers at Penn State to process the reports. It is anticipated that the program will go into effect in six to eight months.

Fall is an excellent time to have soil tested for lime and fertilizer requirements. Soil test kits may be obtained at the Agricultural Extension Office.

LIME RENEWAL

Many fields that were limed a few years ago may be badly in need of lime right now. Increases in crop yields due to liming and the liberal use of fertilizer, will step up the removal of plant nutrients from the soil. This is true of all nutrients, including those supplied by limestone.

Limestone not only can supply the soil with calcium and magnesium, but it improves the effectiveness of other nutrients. Nitrogen does a better crop feeding job and phosphate is more available to growing plants when the soil has a "good lime saturation."

Profitable production high quality grain and forage crops depends largely on providing an adequate and balanced supply of nutrients from the soil, and liming, where needed, should be the first step in building up the soil's nutrient supply.

Fall and winter are an ideal time to spread limestone on fields where soil tests show a need. Spreader trucks can get onto fields easier because the ground is firmer. Later on, plowing or deep discing is a good way to work the lime down into the soil.

Where lime is needed, a surface application may help prolong the productivity of pastures and meadows until they are renovated.

FARMERS GET MOST CREDIT FROM BANKS

Pennsylvania banks were serving farmers with more credit and other financial services than any group of lenders at the beginning of this year, according to L. W. Kuhn, president of the Bendersville National Bank, who represents the Pennsylvania Bankers Association as Adams County agricultural representative. During 1963, the state's banks maintained their leadership in agricultural credit services, he said.

Based on the 23rd annual farm lending summary of the agricultural committee of the American Bankers Association, Mr. Kuhn reported that at the beginning of the year, Pennsylvania banks were helping farmers with $236 million in loans, 10 per cent more than a year previous. This total included $120 million in production loans and $116 million in farm mortgages. At the same time, $11 million in farm loans were held by life insurance companies; $34 million by the Federal Land Banks; $32 million by Production Credit Associations; and $11 million in nonreal estate loans plus $12 million in real estate loans by the Farmers Home Administration. About 74 per cent of the production credit extended by lending institutions to Pennsylvania farmers came from

FHA LOANS MAY HELP COUNTER DROUGHT LOSS

Loan programs of the Farmers Home Administration can help counter the damage caused by the drought here in Adams and York Counties, Daniel A. Paddock, local supervisor of the agency, said today.

Mr. Paddock reported that his agency provides emergency loans to help individual farmers maintain normal operations even though their fields, crops, and livestock have been damaged by the drought. Emergency loans enable farmers to avoid selling off foundation livestock, machinery, and other capital assets needed to operate their farms.

Alfalfa weevil and the third year of drought in Pennsylvania has caused one of the worst livestock feeding problems for many farmers in the state.

EFFECTIVE WEAPON

In addition, the local FHA county supervisor emphasized that other loan programs available to farmers and others in Pennsylvania can be of direct importance in lessening or even eliminating future drought hazards.

"FHA loans available to individual farmers, associations, and small towns finance such projects as farm ponds and other water storage construction in small watersheds," Mr. Paddock said.

"Farmers Home Administration loan programs are one of the most effective weapons available to farmers and others living in rural areas to overcome the immediate banks.

Mr. Kuhn said that "bankers in Pennsylvania are conscious of the large capital investments required in agriculture today and are making a concerted effort through improved lending programs to meet these changing credit demands of the state's farmers."

The increased use of credit by farmers, according to Mr. Kuhn has been accompanied by a substantial gain in the total assets of farm families. Therefore, in the aggregate, the equity position of farmers, contrary to public opinion, is being maintained at a satisfactory level. Nationally, farm families have $193 billion of their own funds invested in agriculture. This represents 85 per cent of the total capital requirements of farmers.

Mr. Kuhn stressed the importance of farmers and bankers working closely together to improve farm financial arrangements. He reported that 91 per cent of insured banks throughout the country had agricultural loans outstanding at the first of the year, with 92 per cent of the insured commercial banks in Pennsylvania extending credit to farm people.

"Hell Driver" Show Spectators Hurt

RHINEBECK, N.Y. (AP) — Thirteen persons were injured slightly Thursday when one of two stunt cars driven by Pennsylvanians rammed through a fence at a "Hell Driver" show at the Dutchess County Fair.

Police said the two drivers—Thomas Howard, 24, of Millington, and Howard Renninger Jr., 23 of Millin—were winding up their act when the bumpers of the cars locked briefly as they slid to a stop after racing down the track alongside each other.

One car veered off and crashed through a chain-link fence. The injured were treated for cuts and bruises at a hospital and released. Neither driver was hurt.

Carnegie Institution, Wash., D.C., was founded in 1906.

effects of the drought. In addition, they also help communities and farmers assure future water supplies and thus avoid serious water shortages over the long run."

Adams and York Counties were designated for emergency loan assistance due to the drought.

LISTS POSSIBLE USES

Mr. Paddock said these loans may be used by farmers to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, replacement equipment and livestock, and for other items needed to maintain normal farming operations.

The interest rate on emergency loans is three per cent. FHA reschedules repayment according to when the borrower can resume normal farming operations.

Loans secured by real estate and farm chattels are available to farmers for variety of farm development and improvement and reforestation, Mr. Paddock reported.

WATER RESOURCES

Farmers Home Administration also extends credit to individual farmers specifically for water resource development. This includes installation of on-farm water systems for irrigation, household use and livestock; drainage of farmland and building of farm water storage structures such as ponds.

Loans of up to $1,000,000 are made by Farmers Home Administration to small towns and associations of farmers and other rural residents to install community water systems for farm and home use, and to groups of farmers to develop water systems for farm irrigation.

Inquiries regarding the agency's assistance can be made at the Farmers Home Administration office at Adams Electric co-operative Building, rear N. Stratton St.

That is particularly true among leaders from Southern states. Several from that area could see the Johnson-Humphrey ticket's prospects as no better than even, if that much.

SEPARATE TICKETS

And some of the Southerners expect local and state candidates to run separately from the national ticket.

Of the leaders of 37 states contacted by The Associated Press during the convention, 18 placed their states solidly in the Johnson-Humphrey corner in November. They are Arkansas, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Oklahoma, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Texas, West Virginia, Wisconsin.

Democratic leaders in 17 other states — including some usually Republican ones — figure they have a good chance to win, or at least their best in several years.

These are Arizona, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Montana, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Carolina, Utah,

The states in which the Democratic chances were rated at no better than even — or were not rated — are Nebraska, South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi and Virginia.

Asked what might cause them the most trouble in the election, leaders from 12 states, including some in the North, specified civil rights and a white backlash. Some said they believe this will be less important as an issue by election day.

State Authorizes Shrine To Mark Whiskey Rebellion

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
Associated Press Writer
HARRISBURG (AP) — Fellow Sons and Daughters of the Whiskey Rebellion — our lost cause at last is getting recognition from the authorities.

After 170 years of cold shoulder from the governmental powers, a shrine of the insurrection finally will be restored by the General State Authority.

The spot is Bradford House in Washington, Pa. It was the residence of David Bradford, deputy state attorney general, who was a leader of the Whiskey Rebellion in 1794.

As any Pennsylvania School child knows, the rebellion was against a tax on whiskey imposed by the federal government.

WASHINGTON'S VISIT

President George Washington personally came to Pennsylvania to lead the U.S. forces against the rebels. In due course the rebellion faded.

The significance of the event — oh, how significant — was that in putting down the revolt the federal government once and for all established its authority to levy and collect taxes on anything.

It will be recalled that the American Revolution that separated the colonies from great Britain also was rooted in the tax issue — particularly a tax on tea.

MYSTERY OF HISTORY

Why a rebellion against a tea tax would succeed while one against a whiskey tax would fail is one of the mysteries of American history. Perhaps George Washington made the difference.

A century and a half after the whiskey rebellion, the State Liquor Control Board was established.

Poor old Bradford. What would he think if he were alive today? He took up arms against George Washington because of a few pennies tax on the demijohn of corn whiskey. Now the commonwealth all by itself collects yearly liquor taxes amounting to $4.21 for every man, woman and child in the state ($48,552,942 in 1963). Of course, the kids aren't paying their share because they can't legally buy the sauce. That means it is being picked up by the already hard hit grownups.

NEEDS MONUMENT

It seems only fitting that the liquor board pick up the $101,354 tab for restoration of the Bradford House. Not only that it ought to put up a monument and, perhaps, open a new state store nearby.

After all, if old Bradford had not precipitated the tax issue and lost there might not be any liquor board. There might not be any taxes.

These thoughts might have

Becker-Reindollar
Miss Reda Mae Reindollar daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Reindollar Littlestown R. 1, became the bride of Charles Francis Becker, 2 Pennsylvania Ave., Hanover, August 16 at 2 p.m. at the Church of the Bethlehem Assembly of God, Littlestown. The Rev. S. A. Garrett performed the double ring ceremony. Gloria Milbrun presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Donna Heidebride.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length silk gown with a fitted bodice. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid with streamers of white carnations and pink roses.

Grace Reindollar, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of blue pure silk with matching headpiece. The junior attendants were Catherine Reindollar sister of the bride, and Mary Becker, sister of the groom. They were in pink and blue dresses similar to the maid of honor.

Fred Morela, Hanover, was best man and the ushers were Monroe Phillips, and Garry Reindollar, Littlestown R. 2. Michael Reinhardt, Littlestown R. 1, was the ring bearer and Cheryl Heidebride, Hanover, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Kingsdale Fire Hall for approximately 100 guests. The couple will reside at 111½ High St., Hanover. The bride attended Littlestown High School and is employed at the Hanover Shoe Factory. The groom attended Hanover Senior High School and is employed at the same factory.

Spangler-Grim

Susan Ann Grim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grim, Abbottstown St., East Berlin, became the bride of Ronald C. Spangler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Spangler, W. King St., East Berlin, in a double-ring ceremony, performed in a candlelight service Saturday in St. John's Lutheran Church, Abbottstown, by the Rev. Garnet Zimmerman.

The matron of honor was Mrs. John Lerew, East Berlin, and the best man was John Lerew, East Berlin. Ushers were Gary Grim, Thomasville R. 1, and Fred Spangler, East Berlin.

Mrs. Pearl Smith was organist. A reception was held in the church hall for 75 guests. The couple spent a honeymoon at Cape Cod.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Berks Springs High School and is employed at Lau's Restaurant, East Berlin. The bridegroom is a 1961 graduate of the same school and is stationed in the U. S. Army at Ft. Meade, Md.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, Aug. 29, the 242nd day of 1964. There are 124 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1809, poet, author and physician Oliver Wendell Holmes was born in Cambridge, Mass. Though he lectured on medicine at Harvard, his "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table" made him famous and turned him to a literary career. His son, who bore the same name, became a Supreme Court justice.

On this date
In 1916, Paul von Hindenburg was appointed chief of the German army general staff.

In 1935, Queen Astrid of Belgium was killed in an auto accident in Switzerland.

In 1941, Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini concluded a conference on the Eastern front.

In 1943, Danish warships were scuttled in the harbor of Copenhagen in an uprising against the Nazis.

Ten years ago—A bus overturned in the State of Jalisco, Mexico; 19 persons were killed when a passenger lit a match, igniting gasoline.

Barry Morse, English-born Pursuer In "The Fugitive" On ABC, Busy Living In Canada, Working In Hollywood

By RUTH E. THOMPSON

He went thataway:

Who? Who?? Who???

Well. If it's fiction, it's Lt. Gerard who's always missing Kimbel who in turn is always missing the one-armed man "who done him wrong." You'll find all of THEM now starting their second year on "The Fugitive" Tuesday night on ABC (10-11 p.m.).

If it's real life of course, the guy in the lead in Barry Mores. Unlike Gerald, whom he portrays, Mores doesn't miss a thing.

Never unemployed in the 29 years since he graduated from the Royal Academy, the English-born actor has since found out how to lead a happy family life and bring up two children while living in Canada and working in Hollywood. He also "moonlights" profitably in New York, London, and Boston.

Gerard should have it so good.

But at least Gerard does get something — sympathy — from Morse whose brother is a London bobby. "I can't see why he's such a villain. This is no fanatical, psychopathic from 'Les Miserables;' he'd be kicked off any modern police force. Gerard is in tune with his environment. He is not the judge . . . just a modern law enforcement officer, enforcing the law."

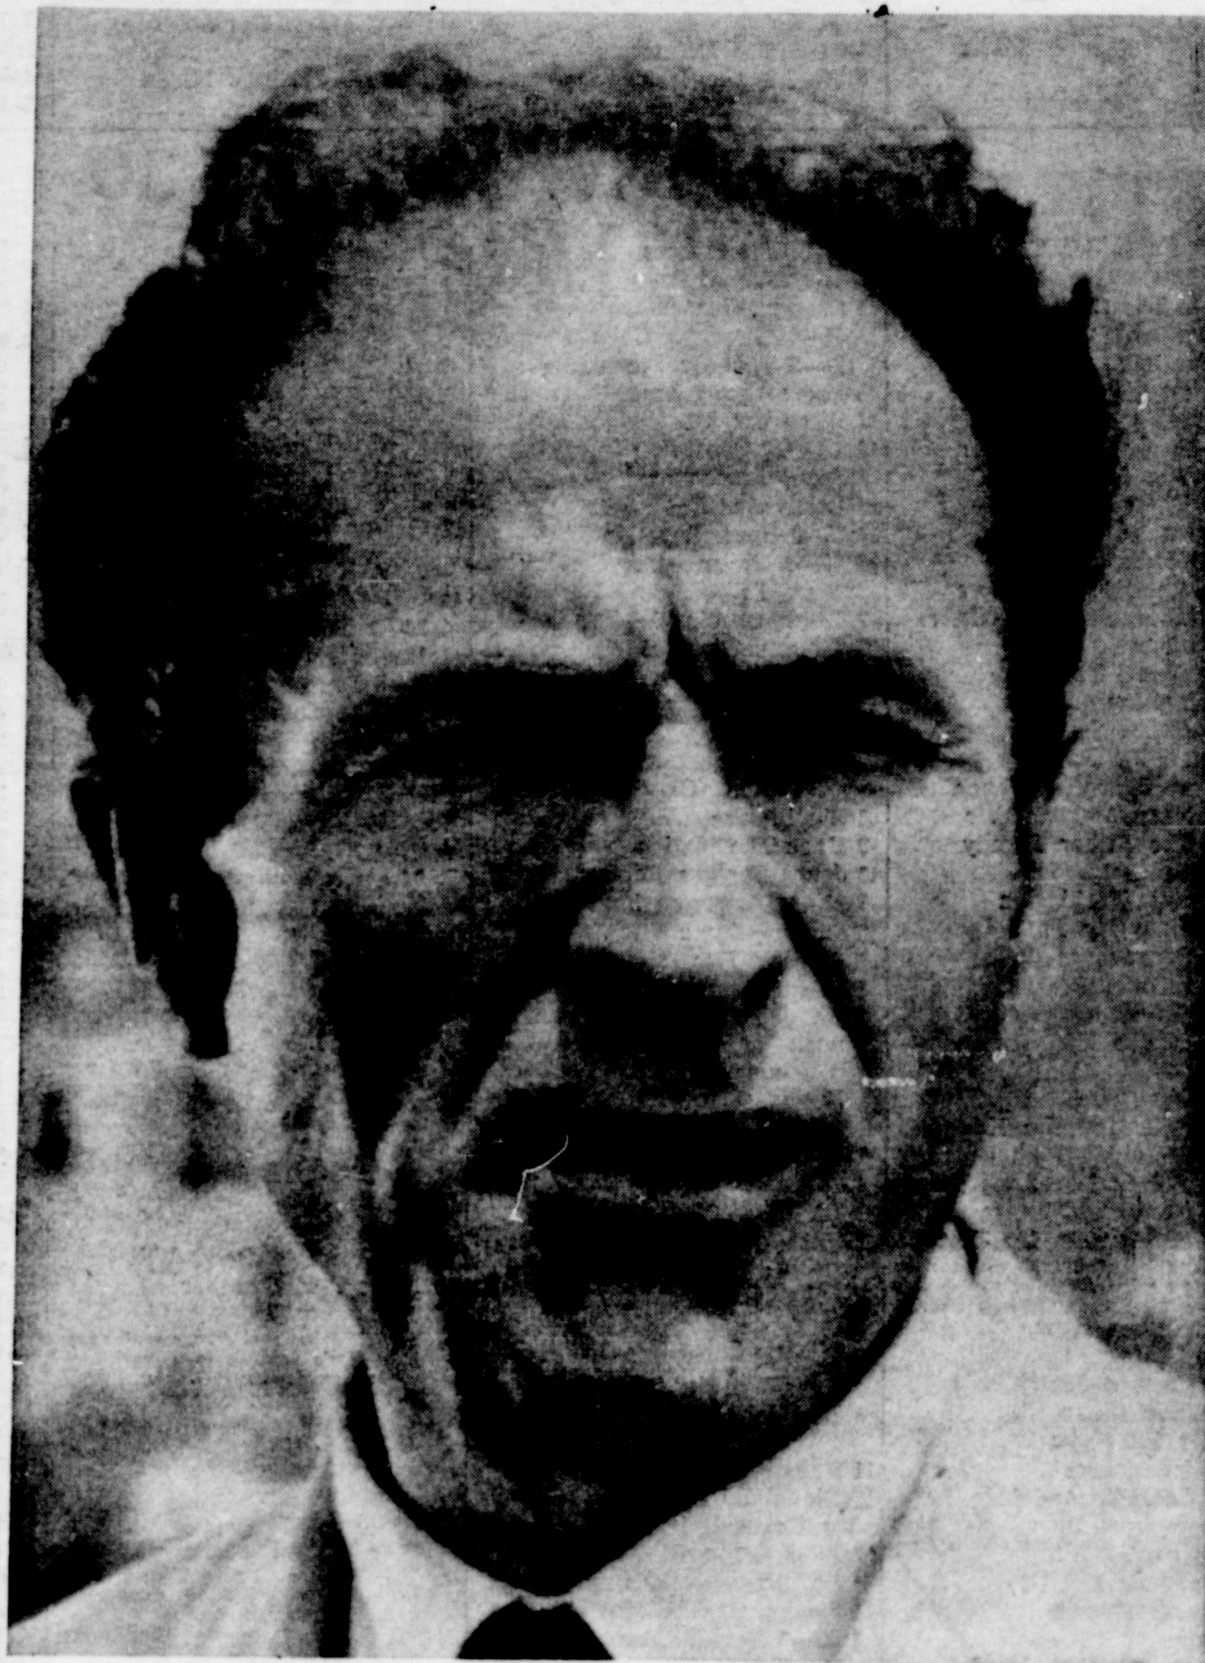

Still, he's nowhere near as successful as Morse.

"Cheer up!" I often say to other actors. "We're doing something we love to do."

SAME FOR HIS CHILDREN

"Seriously," though, "I guess I should touch wood. I've never been unemployed. Many, very good actors, are not that lucky. They don't have sufficient chance to work at their business. That is sad."

"My wife, Sydney Sturges is an actress, but, though she works occasionally, often with me, she's spent these recent years out, bringing back fresh enthusiasm, new ideas to Canada.

"I first branched out to Broadway from Canada in 1957, in a Canadian author's work 'Hide and Seek.' A failure . . . but it's wonderful to fail once in a while!"

Morse bounced back to Broadway fast after that one in a musical "Salad Days," but landed in the midst of a newspaper strike and that limited the run.

But, as he says, "the die was cast, and for the best. I started getting television parts: 'Playhouse,' 'U.S. Steel,' things like that." So the Toronto-Broadway pattern was set.

"Then gradually, things moved to Hollywood. I'd do a 'Playhouse 90' there. Then a series guest shot. When 'The Fugitive' came along I took a small apartment. In other places I stay in hotels."

"Home is a 4-bedroom Neo-Georgian house in Toronto. Our house is where it is because it was near my son's school. I never want to become attached to bits of wood, glass or stone — or the new refrigerator — for their own sakes."

"From the calls I've been getting from Hayward and Melanie, I think my wife will be able to hitch along more often with me from now on."

Calls?

"Yes. They call me often. And may I talk about my children? I'd much rather."

"Hayward is 17. With his mother's dark eyes and my fair hair, he's quite striking. Best of all, on his own, he sort of took final vows to be an actor last summer."

You want him to be an actor?

"Well yes. But only if he wants it. And he does . . . and with very little help he's succeeded in being awarded the same scholarship to the Royal Academy in London that I had 29 years ago. I competed against 200. I think it's about 10 times harder now. My help to him was limited to moral support. He even earned his passage from Canada to England. Worse yet, he was robbed the day he landed . . . lost even "Now why does everybody find me such a villain?" muses Barry Morse in his best "Fugitive" pursuer manner. He feels Lt. Gerard, whom he portrays in the Tuesday night series, is just doing his job. "He doesn't make the law, he enforces it." Morse has five times won the CBC "Best Actor" award.

keeping the home fires burning in Toronto. Though we'd met and married as kids, in London, I never got to visit her home until 1952."

Then he got carried away. "It was such an exciting time. Television was just starting there."

It was like the earth moving. Improbable things were being done."

Barry Morse and family emigrated immediately and he dove in . . . becoming the five-time winner of CBS's top acting award not to mention television directorial and production credits.

"In addition, Stratford-Ontario is only a hundred miles away." That meant more acting-directing for the head of the house, more acting parts for Mrs. Morse and the youngsters, Hayward and Melanie. "Our Stratford, in Ontario," he says, is the most charming English accent since Lester Howard, "is really the best, you know."

"There's a dreadful prospect however," he went on, "that you can be trapped even by a good thing. Canadian television, and I, were both doing fine. I could have succumbed to becoming a sizable fish."

So in 1957 he began to reach

Ryan And Merrill

Are Series Regulars

Robert Ryan, stage and film star, has been chosen as narrator for the definitive documentary series, "World War I." The premier is set for September 22 (CBS).

Another noted actor who will premiere a few days later in a CBS series is Gary Merrill. He'll play the city editor in "The Reporter" — an hour-long series "revolving around an aggressive young newspaperman." Harry Guardino plays the title role.

Also signed as a series regular is Jack Sheldon. The jazz musician-comedian makes his acting debut in the new "Cara Williams Show." This, a half-hour situation comedy, debuts Wednesday, September 23 (9:30 p.m.). Sheldon, who performed with Benny Goodman, Stan Kenton and Les Brown before organizing his own jazz quartet, won't be stepping too far out of character. He'll play Cara's hip-talking jazz-musician next-door neighbor.

LUCK

Lucille Ball got her first job in Hollywood because a billboard ad, for which she'd modeled, caught Eddie Cantor's eye. He hired her for "Roman Scandals."

Ready Made Expressions Of Gratitude

By RUTH HIGGINS

"What kind of a Rip Van Winkle world are you living in?" So chided a Massachusetts friend after reading about the trials of saying thanks for a lovely party . . . and having to give up the ease of telephoning — because you can't get a busy line.

"What's all this jazz about writing a bread-and-butter instead? Don't they have greeting card stores in New York . . . and if so, how many years is it since you browsed through one?"

Yes, they have card shops in Manhattan, all over the place in fact . . . all by themselves, or tied in with candy shops, or tucked away in department stores.

I frequent them frequently. I rush madly for birthday cards and sometimes get quite taken by midsummer offers of half-price Christmas cards.

FINDS WIDE CHOICE

But apparently you see only what you're looking for.

My friend — though pretty high-handed I must say — is right.

The very first card shop I walked into did indeed have a bank of racks devoted to "Thank You's" . . . and it was even broader than it was deep, indicating this is a hot item in the trade.

And what a choice!

There are lovely all-purpose models that just say "thank you."

There are lovely boozy types suitable for the morning after a big bash. Their message seems to be "the party's over?" These are apt to be garnished with pink elephants or empty glasses.

NEW ELEMENT

There are also types that thank you for gifts, for kindness; you name it.

What do I plead for defense? Well you follow the customs of your group . . . and I go around apparently with a whole bunch of Rip Van Winkles who've been taking pen in hand.

The era may be ending for us, too, though. You see there just happened to be a cute card on the rack, a perfect to acknowledge an unexpected gift. So . . . I bought, signed, mailed it and thereby introduced prefabricated gratitude to my little world.

JEFFERSON SAID IT FIRST

Origin of the title of the September 23 documentary "The Presidency: A Splendid Misery" comes from a comment by Thomas Jefferson. He stated: "The second office of this government is honorable and easy . . . the first is but a splendid misery."

SECOND GENERATION

Michael Boyer, 20, finds working for his father's firm is just what he wants to do anyway. He's currently dialogue director on the new Four Star series "The Rouges" starring his father, Charles Boyer, together with David Niven and Gig Young.

SONG TITLE

Michael "Bonanza" Landon is the son of musical comedy star Peggy O'Neill.

Robert Vaughn is a fifth generation actor who wants to quit show business soon and run for public office.

"Peyton Place" (ABC debut date September 15) is believed to be the only nighttime drama series to be presented two times a week.

ADDS UP

Television producer Phil Sharp says he owes his present success to mathematics. It was his worst subject in school, but he needed it for a World War II Army assignment. After a self-taught cram course he made the only perfect score of his unit.

"That was the turning point in my life," he says. "I knew then if I could master math I could do anything."

FARM CLUB

The New Christy Minstrels have taken a direct tip from baseball. They have their own equivalent of a "minor league farm club." It's the singing group called The Back Porch Majority. Last two to make the musical "big nine" are blonde Ann White and redhaired Karen Gunderson.

NEW AUDIENCE

"The Life of Riley" is a current favorite with viewers of Western Nigerian Radiovision Service.

FAIR TIME

Frank Fontaine of the Jackie Gleason show took all his children to the World's Fair . . . but in several shifts. He's the father of eleven.

Mania For Old Things In New Look

By RUTH HIGGINS

Instead of ebbing, the mania for turning coal scuttles into magazine holders, scales into ornaments, and almost anything else hollow into planters rages unabated.

And why not? After all, it's not all that bad.

Of course you may start with junk and after a lot of hard work end up with junk. But what's that to a gambling heart? Besides it's all so relative.

NO RULES

One thing you can say for "making something into something" else is you also make up your own rules. It's not taboo to turn the old commode into a file case . . . or maybe a file case into a bar.

Here are a few case histories and how they worked out profit-wise or loss-wise (as they say in some circles):

Lady in Long Island with an old treadle sewing machine. Her solution . . . remove the works that didn't work anymore, paint the whole thing lavender and use it for a planter. Sounds dreadful? Well it just goes to show you! Profit-wise she's way ahead. It does all the right things for a gloomy corner of a house built when Victoria was in full reign.

TRICKY WICKER

Gal in New York sees a lovely wicker thing in a thrift shop. Snap lock, fine handle. Seems it's a case designed to hold two wine bottles. Two dollars and fifty cents later it's hers. One step more, with the wooden bottle-holding partition excised, it's about as dashing a looking summer handbag as you can imagine. She's way ahead? Guess again. On its first trip to town, unsanded edges gnashed off about thirty-five dollars worth of eyelet from a sixty dollar dress.

Of course, she can always make the dress into something else, but there are less costly ways to come by a couple of new dust cloths.

THE REAL THING

Paul Henning says "Shady Rest Hotel" in "Petticoat Junction" which has been criticized as "unbelievable" is based on an actual hostelry owned by his wife's grandparents.

Barry Morse

his credentials.

"I believe in the kind of education he's embarking on. But I'm not too sure I trust the other kind. He'll get as much from concerts, theater and osmosis as he will from classes. He gave himself good preparation. Last year he asked to use his camp tuition on a trip around the world, instead. His mother and I worried a little when we found he was earning money as a piano player in Tunisia. But, then, innocence is its own protection for the very young! I realized how much he'd gained when he saw me off a couple of months later from London. He was not my little boy any more.

"What influence did I use. Only because he was underage, did I write the authorities. I told them that a man's age should not be the sole test of his abilities.

"Then after he'd done all the auditions and won another scholarship to our Canadian Academy — also very good — did I suggest he get in touch with London. They had said in London they'd write . . . but the Postal Strike was on. "Cable" I said and Hayward did. Good thing too, I was in Hollywood by then but he telephoned exuberantly. He'd won.

"I had a call last night, too, from Melanie. She's 18 now and stop-the-traffic-gorgeous! Don't know where she gets it. She's six foot one," says her five-foot-ten daddy. "Guess she just started big as a baby and never stopped. She's been testing for a what she tells me is a juicy film role.

"It was Melanie by the way, who first realized my work was taking me more and more away from Toronto.

"Daddy" she accused, "you're not here half the time."

"Rubbish, we'll just check my book," I said. "We did, and she was right! She drove the point home, shall we say, even more when my wife and I celebrated our 25th anniversary.

"Like all families, we have our pet sayings.

"She latched onto one that they'd been using increasingly on the phone, found it printed on a card and sent it to her mother. Bordered in purple it said simply, 'He's just away.' She found it by shopping in the bereavement-condolence section.

"However, I really do believe — that though both of us will be seeing less of Hayward (who's enroute to London) and Melanie (who's enroute to the movies) — my wife and I can be in the same city more often.

"We did work together just last month in Boston's wonderful Fine Arts Festival in 'Dear Liar!' A great satisfaction to us both. Seven years ago I used to come down to direct classics for Alice Ridley Evans at Wellesley College. Now she's pulled off her dream. There's a Shakespearean type theater set against the water — and audiences of 6,000 and more filling the Boston Common.

REALLY SPLENDID

"I had to break rehearsal there, to jet to Hollywood for a day's work in 'The Fugitive' but it all came out fine. 'The Fugitive' people really are splendid. They can't tell too far ahead when they'll need me, but they try.

"In the meantime, there's trauma on the set, as I said whenever I appear. And what do you think of David Janssen? Fine fellow. But you must realize we've worked together only once. If we meet again on screen, it's curtains."

Little danger. Few men can keep up with the Barry Morse schedule . . . and it's pretty certain "The Fugitive's" writers won't let Gerard get that good.

ELECTRIC LIVING GUIDE

All rights reserved. H. T. Dickman & Co., Inc., New York.

No "Valleys" With Electrical Heating Interior Climate Stabilized

"Down in the valley?"
(Where the dampness seeps.)

"Up in the hills?"
(Where the wind whips through in the form of drafts.)

Nowadays you don't have to choose your misery when you choose your terrain.

Electrical heat users claim you can have perfect climate either way.

This miracle of choice, however, is still quite recent.

Though a fortunate few have had the trouble-free luxury for years, complete electrical home heating has been noticeable among builders, as a popular trend, for a little less than five years.

Incidentally, it is electrical contractors — many of whom treated themselves to electrical heating systems when they were still considered expensive (and later . . . your lucky home-owner who may have lived in a pioneer all-electrically-heated community)—who got the word around.

At first, as with all "real" finds, popularity of electrical heating built by word of mouth.

Long after perfected equipment and installation methods were available there was not much in the way of informational advertising.

The reasoning is:

The electrical industry

realized it had a good thing . . . wanted to make sure that standards of construction were so definitely established that the "non-heating, nonelectrical" construction of houses was so exactly defined to make the best use of electrical heating.

In less than four years the total of electrically-heated homes in the United States has climbed close to the two million mark.

Endorsements from hard-weather areas are now a frequent feature of newspapers and magazines.

Why?

Seems electrical heating has proven its value not only as a "pure" heating system, but also as the most "practical" heating system.

Of itself, electrical heating is "totally utilizable," i.e. it goes into action right at its source (electrical baseboard, ceiling cable, wall panel) . . . nothing is lost via a long route of pipes.

And . . . when this non-waste heat is coupled with nonwaste, good-insulation construction, ideal inner climate is assured whether you like to gaze up at the mountains, glance down from the hills (or shut your venetians against too-close neighbors).

For: Electrical heating is now available in all price ranges of homes, all around the country.

QUESTION BOX

Q. We're planning to add a room and bath to our house and also do over the front facade to modernize. Is electrical heating practical?

A. There's nothing more "practical" than electrical heating in the up-to-date judgment when it's "set" right.

And anybody who has to do with electrical heating (and that includes the manufacturer of the equipment and the local expert who sells and installs it) would rather you skipped it entirely than give this gem a "tin" setting.

In other words, to keep up electrical heating's reputation (as well as your comfort whatever the weather) the structure—be it a snug vacation two-roomer, or a palace—should be well-built.

Quality, NOT quantity, makes the difference.

The best standard advice for your addition is:

- Really modernize the whole house, don't just patch.
- While you're changing the facade and tearing out for the addition, make sure your insulation is brought up to par anywhere it may be shy.
- With these basic construction standards taken care of, you'll find conversion to electrical heating modest as far as installation costs go.

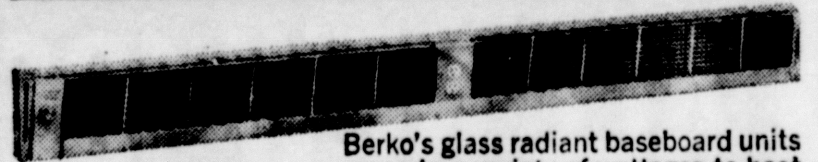

Q. Is true electrical heating does not need maintenance?

A. Since there are no (or few) moving parts in electrical home heating systems, the majority have nothing to get out of order, hence have no need of service.

Q. How do you find out what changing over to electric heat will cost?

A. Start by phoning a reliable electrical heating contractor and talk things over. In addition to getting costs on the actual conversion, you can also get amazingly accurate estimates on what actual usage will be.
